HERE ARE THREE happy Appomattox County Volunteer Rescue Squad members. The recently transported a two-year-old girl to the hospital who "seemed to die" on the way. The squad members took quick action, and this combined with their knowledge and dedication kept her alive until they reached the hospital. (Photo by Bill Sherred)

National FBLA Week, Feb. 8-13, will be observed by business and office education students at Appomattox County High School, who are members of the school's chapter of Future Business Leaders of America.

The Week coincides with the observance of National Vocational Education Week; and activities of FBLA chapters, as well as other vocational student organizations, will be planned to highlight the importance of vocational and career education and its contributions to the community.

Future Business Leaders of America is a national organization operated on the secondary, postsecondary and college levels. There are nearly 200,000 members in 6,000 chapters throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and some foreign countries.

Members of the Appomattox County High School chapter plan to observe FBLA Week with a Valentine's Day Party at Babcock Manor, Teachers' Appreciation Day, Blue and Gold Day, and Dress Right Day.

The Appomattox County High School has 159 members. Local officers are: President, Mitzi Baldwin; Vice Presidents, Shelia Roach and Terri Nash; Secretary, Brenda Smith; Treasurer, Jeff Miller; Reporter, Cindy Covington; Historian, Crystal Carter; Parliamentarian, Anita Harvey; Chaplain, Tammy Carter.

The chapter advisers are Sandra Anders, Mary Kathryn, John Clark, and Joan Holt.

Volunteers save infant's life

By FRANCES PAULETTE

To be a member of the Appomattox County Volunteer Rescue Squad means hard work and dedication to a cause and the members are willing to make any sacrifice necessary to enable them to serve. Regardless of the missed meals, loss of sleep, the tiresome tasks, the change of plans, it is a rewarding work.

"It is so good to know you're helping people," commented Susan Godsey, who has only been a member for the past year and half. She didnt know just how rewarding it could be until just recently on a cold, icy morning.

On January 22, Ray Noble, Captain of the Squad, Gordon Staples, a faithful member of long standing, and Susan, young and willing, answered a call. It was to aid a little two year old girl who was having a difficult time breathing.

"This little girl looked like a doll but she was really having a bad time," said Susan.

"I had never done CPR on a child before," said Susan. "But it was difficult driving weather and Ray was needed to handle the vehicle with experience. We had already run into trouble with the chains breaking before we reached the home. It was up to Gordon and me to look after the little girl in the back. The child's mother was in the back with us. Suddenly as she was holding her she said,'here, take her, something terrible is wrong,' (or words to that effect.)

"Something terrible was indeed wrong," said Susan. "When a person gets oxygen hungry, they begin throwing and threshing their arms and legs about in an uncontrollable manner. And this little girl, in addition to behaving in this manner was turning purple. Gordon began doing compression, using two fingers (on a child so small, the squad member must be very careful not to crush that tiny chest with the full weight of the hand.(As he was doing that, I was doing mouth to mouth resuscitation. We kept it up all the way to the hospital. We even kept it up as she was being taken from the vehicle into the hospital."

"After we got in the City of Lynchburg, Ray made contact with a passing city ambulance or a squad car, I don't remember which, and had them alert the hospital. I just kept praying, 'Lord, don't let her die.' We all kept working hard," said Susan.

A few days after the child had been taken in, received treatment, and was on the way to recovery, an Appomatox woman was in the hospital emergency room along with Susan. One of the doctors approached Susan and spoke of the little girl and her struggle. He said, "I suppose you and the other members of your crew know you saved a life the other day." Susan was impressed.

"I know the squad saves many lives, but when I had been a part of it and it was a child so young and doll-like, I had the most rewarding feeling. I don't think I'll ever feel the same," Susan said.

"Ray and Gordon are so capable and they have been at this business so much longer than I have and I know how rewarding it must be for them," she commented.

Another day, another call.....and this time a life was saved.

In order to aid those with BLUE CROSS and BLUE SHIELD and those with no insurance, the cost of Chiropractic Treatment has been lowered to $10.00 cash per visit.

All other insurances that cover Chiropractic Care will still be accepted instead of payment.

New patients, without x-rays, may still have a one-time charge for diagnostic exam and x-rays, which usually costs from $45 to $55.

Food stamps

be claimed as a food stamp deduction.

Previously, only disabled members who receive Supplemental Security Income, or Social Security blindness or disability payments could benefit from these provisions.

Now, these special provisions are allowed for persons who receive Veterans benefits for total disability or persons who receive Veterans benefits and are surviving disabled spouses or disabled children of veterans.

These new rules took effect Feb. 1, but are retroactive to September 8, 1982. People who have been receiving food stamps since that date, or who applied since that date and were denied food stamps, should contact their local social services or welfare department to find out if these additional benefits may be restored to them.

For more information, call the Virginia Department of Social Services toll-free hotline during normal business hours Monday through Friday. The toll-free number is 1-800-552-3431.

A Tribute

Editor's Note: The following tribute to the late Joseph Fielder Seamster was written by Keith Shelton, Editor of the Gazette-Virginian newspaper in South Boston. Shelton is married to the granddaughter of the late Mr. Seamster.

In last week's paper this tribute was printed at the end of Mr. Seamster's obiturary, but Mr. Shelton was not credited with writing it. We regret the error.

They turned out in droves Saturday, first at the funeral home and later at Hunting Creek Baptist Church to pay their final respects to one of a vanishing breed of men.

Papa Joe Seamster passed away Thursday evening at the age of 91 after battling a variety of illnesses that would have meant the end of those of lesser zeal and courage long before.

Papa Joe lived alone on his farm and entrance to the Cove in one of Halifax County's not sparsely populated areas. That's the way he wanted it.

Why, it was only several years ago that the fellow would agree to the construction of an indoor bathroom. It wasn't that he didn't like the niceties of life; he just didn't want to spend all that money just for himself.

We knew Papa Joe only for the past five or six years, but we're richer for the experience. His was a lesson in self-sufficiency we seldom see in this day and age.

Galilee news

Everyone is extended a most cordial and gracious invitation to worship with us at Galilee this coming Sunday at 11 a.m. Pastor Davis has prepared a special sermon for the congregation and the Senior and Junior Choirs are planning special selections for your inspiration. Remember that Sunday school precedes our worship service.

All church organizations are reminded to submit dates for their special activities and celebrations to complete our calendar for 1983.

The Appomattox branch of the NAACP is pleased to announce that the response to the Anti-Cold homes program has been good. The following area churches have contributed: Peaceful Grove Baptist Church-$50; Galilee Baptist Church, $25; Mt. Shiloh Baptist Church, $25.

President Herbert Fleshman, Sr. is urgently requesting all churches to respond to this worthy appeal as soon as possible. In addition, the regular meeting will be held on Feb. 15 at 7 p.m. at the Spout Spring community center.

Brother Willie Harvey is improving at home. Brother John Harvey is in Lynchburg General. Rev. James Franklin is also hospitalized.

We wish for Mr. Kevin Ferguson a speedy recovery following his accident.

Let us continue our Christian duty by praying for and visiting the sick and shut-in and all people in distress.

Happiness is not perfected until it is shared. Have a most spiritual and enjoyable week. God bless.

County Line news

Mrs. Kathy Evans and girls visited Mr. and Mrs. Pete Banton and Phillip Sunday.

Mr. George Inge, of Chester, Va., brother of the late Mrs. Linnie Nash, is in the hospital and had surgery. Our prayers and best wishes for a speedy recovery.
